I think the losses of the enemy must be greater. We have taken over 5,090 prisoners in battle, whilst he has taken from us but few, except stragglers.

HIS POLICY.

On all leading questions agitating the public mind I will always express my views to Congress, and urge them according to my judgement, and when I think it advisable will exercise the constitutional privilege of interposing a veto to defeat measures which I oppose. But all laws will be faithfully executed, whether they meet my approval or not. I shall on all subjects have a policy to recommend but none to enforce against the will of the people.

EXECUTING THE LAW.

In addressing my third annual message to the law-making branch of the Government, it is gratifying to be able to state that during the past year success has generally attended the effort to execute all laws found upon the statute books. The policy has been, not to inquire into the wisdom of laws already enacted, but to learn their spirit and intent, and to enforce them accordingly. I submit these suggestions with a confidence that your combined action will be wise, statesmanlike, and in the best interests of the whole country.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

Always favoring practical reforms, I respectfully call your attention to one abuse of long standing, which I would like to see remedies by this Congress. It is a reform in the civil service of the country. I would have it go beyond the mere fixing of the tenure of office of clerks and employes, who do not require "the advice and consent of the Senate" to make their appointments complete. I would have it govern, not the tenure, but the manner of making all appointments. There is no duty which so much embarrasses the Executive and Heads of Departments as that of appointments; nor is there any such arduous and thankless labor imposed on Senator and Representatives as that of finding places for constituents. The present system does not secure the best men, and often not fit men, for public place. The elevation and purification of the civil service of the Government will be hailed with approval by the whole people of the United States.

DO WHAT IS RIGHT.

There has been no hesitation in changing officials in order to secure an efficient execution of the laws, too, when in a mere party view, undesirable political results were likely to follow; nor any hesitation in sustaining efficient officials against remonstrances wholly political.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM AGAIN.

It has been the aim of the Administration to enforce honesty and efficiency in all public offices. Every public servant who has violated the trust placed in him has been proceeded against with all the rigor of the law. If bad men have secured places it has been the fault of the system established by law and custom for making appointments, or the fault of those who recommend for Government positions persons not sufficiently well known to them personally, or who give letters indorsing the character of office-seekers without a proper sense of the grave responsibtlity which such a course devolves upon them. A civil service reform which can correct this abuse is much desired. A salutary lesson has been taught the careless and the dishonest public servant in the great number of prosecutions and convictions of the last two years.

THE CURRENCY.

Among the evils growing out of the rebellion is that of an irredeemable currency. It is a duty, and one of the highest duties of Government, to secure to the citizen a medium of exchange of fixed, unvarying value. This implies a return to a specie basis, and no substitute for it can be devised. It should be commenced now and reached at the earliest practicable moment consistent with a fair regard to the interests of the debtor class I earnestly recomend, then, such legislation as will ensure a gradual return to specie payments, and put an immediate stop to fluctuations in the value of currency.

THE TAXES.

The tax collected from the people has been reduced more than $80,000,000 per annum. By steadiness in our present course, there is no reason why, in a few short years, the national tax-gatherer may not disappear from the door of the citizen almost entirely. With the revenue stamp dispensed by postmasters in every community; a tax upon liquors of all sorts, and tobacco in all its forms; and by a wise adjustment of the tariff, which will put a duty only upon those articles which we could despense with, known as luxuries, and on those which we use more of than we produce, revenue enough may be raised, after a few years of peace and consequent reduction of indebtedness, to fulfill all our obligations. A further reduction of expenses, in addition to a reduction of interest account may be relied on to make this practicable. Revenue reform, if it means this, it has my hearty support.

THE TARIFF.

In readjusting the tariff, I suggest that a careful estimate be made of the amount of surplus revenue collected under the present laws, after providing for the current expenses of the Government, the interest account, and a sinking fund, and that this surplus be reduced in such a manner as to afford the greatest relief to the greatest number.

PUBLIC LANDS.

The time-honored and beneficial policy of setting apart certain sections of public land for educational purposes in the new States should be continued.

I renew my recommendation that the public lands be regarded as a heritage to our children, to be disposed of only as required for occupation and to actual settlers.

The true prosperity and greatness of a nation is to be found in the elevation and education of its laborers.

NATIONAL CREDIT.

The United States should not loan their credit in aid of any enterprise undertaken by States or corporations, nor grant lands in any instance, unless the projected work is of acknowledged national importance.

THE INDIANS.

I recommend liberal appropriations to carry out the Indian peace policy, not only because it is humane, Christian-like and economical, but because it is right.

EQUAL RIGHTS TO ALL.

The citizen of the United States, whether native or adopted, who discharges his duty to his country, is entitled to its complete protection. While I have a voice in the direction of affairs, I shall not consent to imperil this sacred right by conferring it upon fictitious or fraudulent claimants.

POLYGAMY.

Neither polygamy nor any other violation of existing statues will be permitted within the territory of the United States. It is not with the religion of the self-styled Saints that we are now dealing, but with their practices. They will be protected in the worship of God, according to the dictates of their consciences, but they will not be permitted to violate the laws under the cloak of religion.

THE SOUTHERN STATES.

More than six years having elapsed since the last hostile gun was fired between the armies then arrayed against each other—one for the perpetuation, the other for the destruction, of the Union—it may well considered whether it is not now time that the disabilities imposed by the Fourteenth Amendment should be removed. That amendment does not exclude the ballot, but only imposes the disability to hold offices upon certain classes. When the purity of the ballot is secure, majorities are sure to elect officers reflecting the views of the majority. I do not see the advantage or propriety of excluding men from office merely because they were, before the rebellion, of standing and character sufficient to be elected to positions requiring them to take oaths to support the Constitution, and admitting to eligibility those entertaining precisely the same views, but of less standing in their communities. It may be said that the former violated an oath, while the latter did not. The latter did not have it in their power to do so, if they had taken this oath it cannot be doubted they would have broken it as did the former class. If there are any great criminals, distinguished above all others for the part they took in opposition to the Government, they might, in the judgment of Congress, be excluded from such an amnesty. This subject is submitted for careful consideration.

The condition of the Southern States is, unhappily, not such as all true patriotic citizens would like to see. Social ostracism for opinion's sake, personal violence or threats toward persons entertaining political views opposed to those entertained by the majority of the old citizens, prevent immigration and the flow of much-needed capital into the States lately in rebellion. It will be happy condition of the country when the old citizens of these States will take an interest in public affairs, promulgate ideas honestly entertained, vote for men representing their views, and tolerate the same freedom of expression and ballot in those entertaintng different political convictions.

THE GENERAL POLICY OF THE ADMINISTRATION.

On my assuming the responsible duties of Chief Magistrate of the United States, it was with the conviction that three things were essential to its peace, prosperity, and fullest developement. First among these, is strict integrity in fulfilling all our obligations. Second, to secure protection to the person and property of the citizens of the United States, in each and every portion of our common country, wherever he may choose to move without reference to original nationality, religion, color, or politics, demanding of him only obedience to the laws and proper respect for the rights of others. Third, union of all the States—with equal rights—indestructable by any constitutional means.

In conclusion, I would sum up the policy of the Administration to be a thorough enforcement of every law; a faithful collection of every tax provided for: economy in the disbursement of the same; a prompt payment of every debt of the nation; a reduction of taxes as rapidly as the requirements of the country will admit; reductions of taxation and tariff, to be so arranged as to afford the greatest number; honest and fair dealings with all other peoples, to the end that war, with all its blighting consequences, may be avoided, but without surrendering any right or obligation due to us; a reform in the treatment of Indians, and in the whole civil service of the country; and, finally, in securing a pure, untrammeled ballot, where every man entitled to cast a vote may do so, just once, at each election, without fear, or molestation, or proscription on account of his political faith, nativity, or color.

What Horace Greeley Thinks of the Democratic Party.

EXTRACTS, RICH, RARE AND RACY.

Now that Mr. Greeley has become the leader of the Democracy, we present the following extracts from editorials of the New York Tribune, writen by Mr. Greeley during the forty years of his editorial life. They are refreshing, and will not nauseate Democrats who have lost all self-respect,—forsaken principle in their hunt for office,—and become first-class dirt-eaters. The extracts are as follows:

THE WHITE HOUSE DISEASE.

"Mr. Webster was not only a gentleman, but he had the elements of moral greatness; and he had his faults as well. He failed only in one respect; and in this respect I differ from him—he wanted to be President, and I don't.—Horace Greeley, in 1868.

OUR GREATEST MAN.

"We have seen our greatest man, Mr. Chase, making the same blunder. I have seen men who had the disease early, and died of it at a very old age."—Horace Greeley, in 1868.

THE FATE OF GEN. CASS.

"Gen. Lewis Cass died at 82, and up to the day of his death he wanted to be President. No one ever escapes who catches the disease: he lives and dies in the delusion. Being a reader and an observer at an early age, I saw how it poisoned and paralyzed the best of our public men, and have carefully avoided it."—Horace Greeley, in 1866.

THE GOOD SENSE OF GEN. GRANT.

"We, at least, in our day, have a President-elect who did not try to be President. He was elected mainly on that account."—Horace Greele y, in 1868.

THE ENEMY OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

"If the Democratic party were called upon to decide between Grant and myself, I know that their regard for what they must call principle would induce nine-tenths of them to vote against me. Why? I am a decided enemy of that party, even in its most respectable aspects."—Horace Greeley, in 1871.

PICTURES OF THE DEMOCRACY.

"Every one who chooses to live by pugilism or gambling or harlotry, with nearly every keeper of a tippling house, is politically a Democrat."—Horace Greeley.

IGNORANCE A DEMOCRATIC ALLY.

"If there were not a newspaper or a common school in the country, the Democratic party would be far stronger than it is."—Horace Greeley.

DEMOCRATIC ESSENTIALS.

"The essential articles of the Democratic creed [are] 'love rum and hate niggers.' The less one learns and knows, the more certain he is to vote the regular ticket from A to izzard."—Horace Greeley.

WHO ARE DEMOCRATS.

"We thereupon asked our contemporary to state frankly whether the pugilists, blacklegs, thieves, burglars, keepers of dens of prostitution, etc., etc., * * * were not almost unanimously Democrats."—Horace Greeley.

DEMOCRATIC VIRTUES.

"To smoke is a Democratic virtue; to chew is that virtue intensified; to drink rum is that virtue in the superlative."—Horace Greeley.

THE DANGEROUS CLASSES ALL DEMOCRATS.

"A purely selfish interists attaches the lewd, ruffianly, criminal, and dangerous classes to the Democratic party."—Horace Greeley.

SIX IN A BED.

"This would amount to six in a bed, exclusive of any other vermin, for every Democratic couch in the State of New York, including those at Sing Sing and Auburn."—Horace Greeley.

THE NATIONAL DEMOCRATS'

"Point wherever you please to an election district which you will pronounce morally rotten, given up in great part to debauchery and vice; where voters subsist mainly by keeping policy-offices, gambling houses, grog-shops and darker dens of infamy, and that district will be found at nearly or quite every election giving a majority for that which styles itself 'the Democratic party.' Take all the haunts of debauchery in the land, and you will find nine tenths of their master spirits active partisans of that same Democracy. What is the instinct, the sympathetic chord, which attaches them so uniformly to this party? Will you consider?"—Horace Greeley.

REBEL DEMOCRACY.

"The brain, the heart, the soul of the present Democratic party is the rebel element at the South, with its Northern allies and simpathisers. It is rebel at the core to-day. It would come into power with the hate, the chagrin, the wrath, the mortification of ten bitter years to impel and guide its steps. It would devote itself to taking off or reducing tax after tax until the Treasury was deprived of the means of paying interest on the national debt, and would hail the tidings of national bankruptcy with unalloyed gladness and unconcealed exultation. Whatever chastisement may be deserved by our national sins, we must hope that this disgrace and humiliation will be spared us."—Horace Greely.

AN EARNEST PRAYER.

"May it be written on my grave that I was never its follower [namely, of the Democratic party,] and lived and died in nothing its debtor."—Horace Greely.

THE FEROCIOUS PROTECTIONIST."

"You only err as to the proper candidate. I am not the man you need. Your party is modestly Free Trade, and I am a ferocious Protectionist. I have no doubt that I might be, nominated and elected by your help but it would place us all in a false position."—Horace Greeley to P. Donan, in 1871.

"THE BAYNOT LAW OF 1870"

"It is urged by the Democratic organs that the law is to be enforced in State and municipal elections. This is done to make it more obnoxions, if that be possible, to their party. But, unfortunately, this is an error. The law applies only to presidential and congressional election, though we heartily wish it could be made to apply to all others."—Horace Greeley.

THE KU KLUX LAW.

"I hold our Government bound by its duty of protecting our citizens in their fundamental rights, to pass and enforce laws for the extirpation of the execrable Ku Klux conspiricy; and, if it has not the power to do it, then I say our Goverament is no government, but a sham. I, therefore, on every proper occasion, advocated and justified the Ku Klux Act. I hold it especially desirable for the South; and, if it does not prove strong enough to effect its pourpose, I hope it will be made stronger and stronger."—Horace Greely in 1872!

ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S LINEAL SUCCESSOR.

"Many will be surprised at the President's hearty endorsement of civil service reform [in his message of 1870;] but he has been there all along. The President's summing up of the leading objects of his policy, and especially his desire to secure a pure and untrameled vote, must appeal cogently to the judgement and affections of the American people. He is Abraham Lincoln's lineal successor; and the popular heart beats in unison with his administration and his efforts."—Horace Greeley in 1870.

AN OPINION OF GEN. GRANT.

"As to the Administration of Gen. Grant, I recognise no one as a Republican who is not greateful for its judicious, energetic, and successful efforts to procure the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment—that keystone of our political arch whereby the fruits of our great triumphs over rebellion and slavery are assured and perpetuated. That the President has made some mistakes in appointments is obvious. It would be strange, indeed, if one so inexperienced in the conduct of political affairs had wholy escaped them. While asserting the wright of every Republican to his untrameled choice of candidate for the President, until a nomination is made, I venture to suggest that Gen. Grant will be far better pualified for that momentous trust in 1872 than he was in 1868."—Horace Greeley in 1871.

THE RIGHT OF SECESSION.

Whenever a considerable portion of our Union shall deliberately resolve to go out, we shall resist all coercive measures designed to keep it in." "If the Cotton States shall decide that they can do better out of the Union than in it, we insist on letting them go in peace." "If the Slave States only, chose to form an independent nation, they have a clear moral right to do so."—Horace Greeley in 1860 and 1861.

Democratic Platforms.

The history of Democratic platforms presents a striking illustration of the uncertainty and inconsistency of political creeds, and illustrates the fact that extremes often meet. We will make a brief synopsis of prominent Democratic doctrines, and show their tendencies and results.

PLATFORM OF 1860.

"We will carry our slaves into the territories and non-slaveholding States, whenever we please."

"Old Greeley ought to be hung; and his followers in the South are the dregs of society, and ought to be tarred and feathered."

"The right of secession is inherent in the sovereign States, and its exercise will produce no war."

"We can whip the Yankees before breakfast."

"We will wipe up all the blood with a pocket handkerchief, and pay the expenses of the way with a ragged shinplaster."

RESULTS.

There are no slaves in any State or territory, and the old flag floats over five millions of colored freedmen.

"Old Greeley" is the chief of the Democracy and his followers comprise the "decency and intelligence" of Southern society.

Secession has produced the most terrible war of modern times, spreading ruin and devastation throughout the Southern country.

The Yankees were not whipped before breakfast, nor at any other time.

The South has been bankrupted and her soil drenched with the blood of her brave and devoted children. An enormous national debt has been contracted, and heavy taxation has been entailed upon the whole country, to extend through many generations.

PLATFORM FROM 1861 TO 1865.

"Down with the stars and stripes—trample the old flag in the dust."

"Conscription, impressment, confiscation, tithing."

"Owners of twenty negroes to stay at home, while poor white men are conscripted to fight the battles of slavery."

"Bomb-prof offices for those who brought on the war, with large supplies of commissary and quarter-masters' stores, upon which to live and grow rich."

CLOSED.

The canvas here is now at an end. Before this week's issue of our paper can reach any large number of its patrons the polls will have closed and the result be known. We earnestly hope, aye confidently believe that all will be well. We have conscientiously performed our duty. We have tried to conduct the canvas in a manly, dignified way. Hating demagogues, we have refrained from plying his arts, and loving the truth we have religiously endeavored to adhere to it in all we have written and published. We repeat that we feel that we have done our duty. May the result prove the best for the State and Nation.

ANOTHER DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS—CARTER'S DEFEAT CERTAIN.

Col. CARTER is bound to be badly beaten. He is unpopular on the other side of the Sound where he is best known, and the Democrats over there won't vote for him. They say in the first place, they have no confidence in a back sliding "Union Leaguer," and in the second place they can't support a man who is so overbearing, grasping and oppressive to the poor. They have brought out a new man, a regular Democrat—E. H. SAUNDERSON Esq., of Hyde County. It is said he will poll a large Democratic vote in Hyde, Tyrrell and Washington Counties. The Colonel will be compelled to go "where the wood bine twineth." Good bye CARTER!

We see it announced that the BROWN family are about to have a reunion at Frankfort, Ky., which GRATZ, the Democratic candidate for Vice President, will attend. It is to be hoped he will remember his "little infirmity" and indulge in nothing stronger than a decoction of the Arabian berry or the herb of China. Forgetful of this the mishap that recently befel him in New York may occur again.

BISMARCK'S toes are threatened. The Pope has made an address to a deputation, in which he is severe upon BISMARCK and prophesies that a stone will fall from the mountains and crush his feet. We have heard something of that kind before, but we apprehend the stone will hit the Pope and not the Prime Minister.

THE NATIONAL FLAG.

The National Flag was adopted June 14th, 1777, Congress ordering that the flag of the United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white and that the Union be 13 stars, whtie in a blue field, representing a new constellation. The colors had been previously used simply to imply a union or uniting together. No special meaning or significance was given to the red, white and blue, althongh our poets afterwards gave their interpretation. The flag displayed by Gen. Putnam on Prospect Hill near Boston, July 18th, 1775, was red in token of definance. The Massachusetts cruisers bore a white flag with a green pine tree. The first flag unfurled in South Carolina was a blue one with a white crescent in the dexter corner. Here we have the three colors which afterwards entered into the composition of the National flag. The standard of the first American fleet hoisted at Philadelphia, Dec. 22, 1775, by Paul Jones was a ratlesnake on a yellow field. When Washington assumed command of the army Jan. 1, 1776, he displayed on the hights before Boston, the flag known as the "Great Union" which consisted of the cross of St. George and St. Andrew, on a blue ground in the upper corner with a afield of alternate horizontal stripes of red and white, to indicate the union of thecolonies for the maintenance of their rights within the Empire of Great Britain. This was in color, a combination of the red flag first raised by the army and the white flag of the navy. When the fleet above refered to sailed, it bore the Union flag as raised by Washington. After the declaration of independence this flag, which signified Union with Great Britain, was discarded and the "stars and stripes" adopted. John Adams was chairman of the war committee, and the idea of the stars to represent the States is supposed to have come from him. It is claimed, too, that the idea of the flag was suggested by the cont of arms of the Washington family—the shield of which presents a white on silver field traversed by two red bars, with three stars in the upper portion. The "Stars and Stripes" were first used in a conspicous way at the surrender of Burgoyne. By the act of May 1, 1794, the flag was made to have fifteen stripes and fifteen stars. By the act of April 4th, 1818, it was ordered that the stripes be thirteen, representing the original thirteen States and that the stars be in number corrosponding to to the number of States in the Union a new star to be added on the 4th of July next succeeding the admission of any new State. This device, intended to illustrate the origin of the Republic as well as its progress, was that of Capt. Samuel C. Reid, of New York.

JUDGE IT BY ITS DEEDS.

The Republican Party asks no one to believe its promises in face of a Presidential campaign. It points to its acts while in power, and on these alone asks the public judgment. What it has done is evidence of what it will do—good, reliable evidence. Look at the facts—$333,676,919 of the public debt paid since March 4,1869, and the good work still going on. Taxes reduced each year by millions have not checked the payment of the debt. To-day our annual interest to pay on the public debt is $20,000,000 less than in 1869 and next month it will be still less. No party and no nation ever before presented to the world such a record of substantial economy, reduction of taxes and reduction of debt. This alone is the sufficient pledge of the Republican party for its future faithfulness if entrusted with four more years of rule.

What has the Democratic party to point to? A record of treason! A record of a bankrupt treasury! A record of dishonest and absconding officers! A record of broken promises.

In the face of all these it again asks the people to believe its empty promises, made only to be broken. The very name of Democracy has become a stench in the nostrils of all honest men and no Horace Greeley can sweeten the rotten mass. It is reeking with corruption and has been for years. The people now propose to bury it with all its record of infamy, of treason, of corruption and dishonesty, so deep that it shall never dream of a ressurrection.

A DISREPUTABLE POLITICIAN.

The Tribune, in its better and purer days, use to warn the country against the sophistries, tricks and lies of Mr. JAMES R. DOOLITTLE. He has not improved—does not hesitate still to tell a good square falsehood for political effect. When Secretary BOUTWELL delivered a speech in this State about two weeks ago he protested against Mr. GREELEY'S notion of "clasping hands across the bloody chasm," because, as he expressed it, he desired "rather that it should be filled up, so that no seam of it should hereafter be discovered." In a speech at Norfolk the other day Mr. DOOLITTLE in a pretended reply to Mr. BOUTWELL'S speech read only the first clause of the sentence: "We have been advised to shake hands across the bloody chasm, I solemnly protest against the advice"——and stopping there proceeded to argue that the Senator desired the North and South to remain divided. If this sort of misrepresentation is Mr. DOOLITTLE'S capital we shall believe him to be quite as disreputable a politician as GREELEY described him to be.

Senator CONKLING addressed a monster "Grant and Wilson" meeting in New York on Tuesday night and selected as his text "The Presidential battle of 1872. Grant and his defamer's. Deeds not words." During his speech Mr. CONKLIN said that he had been a close observer of four Presidents and many public men, and if among them all there is one living or dead who never knowingly failed in his duty that one is President GRANT.

A gentleman in Lewiston, Me., advertises in the Journal of that City that he has two good house lots in Lewiston and four good carriages, which he will sell to any Democrat, to be paid for when GRANT is elected President of the United States.

"THE REGULAR TICKET."

The right of a citizen to scratch or bolt his party's regular ticket is the right of revolution in miniature. It incontestably exists, but it is very difficult to define. Every voter feels that he has it, though not infrequently with the drawback experienced by ARTEMUS WARD, who said: "I have the gift of oratory, but I havn't it about me." The loss is sometimes owing to circumstances "over which the owner has no control," as the advertisements read, and sometimes it is directly perfected.

Let us give an illustration. Mr. TOMPKINS, perusing his morning paper at the breakfast table, growls and brings his fist down with a bang that sets all the crockery in a clatter. In answer to the inquring of his wife's open eyed astonishment, he proceeds to inform her that the last straw has broke the camel's back; that at his party's Convention the day before S. C. ALLAWAG Esq., had been nominated for ——; and that he, TOMPKINS, could not and would not support such a disreputable nomination, but should bolt or scratch the regular ticket "if the party went to flinders." Now this may be a noble resolution, but certainly not for Mr. TOMPKINS to make. It may be creditable to him as a man, but possibly disgraceful as a citizen.

In the first place Mr. TOMPKINS has no business to get his first information of what his own party has done or whom placed in nomination for the local offices from his paper. He ought to have been on the spot, attended the caucus and taking his share in making up the nomination. Perhaps the objectionable candidate succeeded in only one majority; so that TOMPKINS' little vote, if duly administered, would have relieved himself and his whole party from what now distresses him so much. Perhaps, though the nomination appeared to bystanders to be all "cut and dried," if TOMPKINS had gone to work earnestly he might have rallied sufficient opposition to defeat the scheme. At all events, it was his duty to have fought the man if he wanted to furnish any sound foothold for his subsequent repudiation of the offensive result. If he stays at home, and virtually commissions his fellow-partizans to act as his agents in the selection of a candidate for office, what right has he to disown their work?

The party is made for the citizen and not the citizen for the party. A political organization, in the present state of affairs, isn't millenial institution, or a "praying band." The doors of admission always stand open, and there is no committee on applications for membership. We must always expect, therefore, a good many unworthy men to get in, and we must not be surprised if some of them rise to the higher seats of candidacy.

There are times when the destinies of the country hang on the result of the struggle between its two great political parties. At such a time the national issue swallows up all persoual considerations; and a man can no more decline to withhold his vote because he is not satisfied with the names on the ticket, than SHERMAN'S best soldiers, in the march through Georgia, could have been justified in deserting because there were so many "bummers" around. Again, it is never to be forgotten that a man, in scratching or bolting his regular ticket, cannot say to himself that he will administer a piece of discipline to his party and have it stop there, he is really helping the antagonist party, the very party he has always reprobated.

It amounts to this: Can a man afford to mark his disapproval of unworthy individuals by giving a lift to bad principles. We answer NO.

CLOSE IT UP.

The new "gospel of peace" as proclaimed by HORACE GREELEY and his followers is expressed in the diaphanous language: "Let us clasp hands across the bloody chasm," and every vassal of the chapaqua woodchopper from DOOLITTLE down—every whelp that eats bones in the "anything to beat GRANT" kennel are now making themselves hoarse in re-echoing it from one end of the Republic to the other. But it is all sentiment and mock heroic at that. Thinking men cannot help asking the question: Why keep the chasm open to clasp hands across? The Republican gospel is: Close it up and let us all stand on and over where it once was and then there will be no dividing line. Then there will be peace.

THE DEMOCRATIC MIRROR.

On one side; Greeley Democrat to an undecided Democrat—As you say HORACE was a Republican, an Abolitionest and a Free Trader, but he's changed. He,s as good a Democrat to-day as I am. — Impressively) Look at his letter and the platform.

The other side.—Greeley Republican to a wavering Republican—HORACE GREELEY is aDemocrat! Bosh! He has never changed a particle, and never will change. (With great earnestness) Look at his letter and the platform.

The difference of opinion among the doctors who were witnesses on the trial of STOKES for the murder of FISK, illustrate the uncertainties of science, and aught to make its teachers modest. We are often taunted by men of science with the uncentainties of moral philosophy, but if it is true that the most learned doctors cannot agree as to the cause of the sudden death of a man shot through the abdomen by a leaden bullet, surely doctors of divinity may be excused for disagreeing over a problem in metaphysics.

Not a week passes but we get indications of the death of the Democratic party, but there has been nothing more significant lately than the demise of the Ohio Statesman, the central organ of the Ohio Democracy published at Columbus, the capital of the State. Greeleyism struck it as with a withering blight, and it peacefully gave up the ghost. We know of others that will soon follow.

The initials "H. G." use to mean HORACE GREELEY. Now it is defined to mean Hate Grant.

Senator SHURZ stepped into the political ring of 1872 at St. Louis on the 22nd ult., and made his initial speech of the campaign. He made a few more in this State during the past week. The burthen of them all are that if GRANT did not exist GREELEY would be the worst man in the world to ask people to elect to the Presidency, but as things are we ought to take him on the lesser evil. His speeches dan't help GREELEY much. They are marched by the Schurzian Phorisaism and personal arrogance of all honorable motives and good intentions that the country takes them at a large discount.

We have a few restless, ambitious politicians in this District who begin to realize that they have made political blunders. They now feel the truth of the couplet:

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen
The saddest are these, 'I might have been."

We know of several who, had they remained true to their honest convictions and worked on faithfully, could to-day have occupied high positions; but the tempter came. They yielded and fell To-day they are "melancholly monuments of the instability of human virtue when confronted by temptation.

The attempt to assassinate the reigning King and Queen of Spain has created intense excitement throughout the whole of civilized Europe. The government of King Amadeus has been marked with political actions not at all in keeping with the general disreputable character of the Spanish people, and both his consort and himself have won the esteem of Foreign powers. The condemnation expressed at the taking off of MARSHAL PRIM is far transcended by the dastardly attempt on the lives of these virtuous sovereigns.

We call attention to the political articles on our first page this week. The article on "GRANTS PRINCIPLES" show the character and sentiments of the man. The "Opinions of HORACE GREELY" are especially dedicated to his Southern new made allies, and supporters, and the "Democratic Platform" is interesting reading just now. We publish these articles that all our readers may be fully posted.

Ex-Senator J. R. DOOLITTLE was President and Mr. PARRIS Secretary of both the JOHNSON Convention some years ago at Philadelphia and the GREELEY Convention a few weeks ago at Baltimore. The tone of the speeches were the same on both occasions. The same boasting and the same prophacy were made at the former as at the latter. The first proved a grand fizzle. So will the latter.

A correspondent wants to know the names of the Democrats who voted for the Rail road swindles. We give them. Osburne, Durham, Argo, Davidson, Gatling, Gibson, Green, Kelly, Malone, Mathews, Nicholson, Painter, Prifitt, Robinson, Smith and Whitley. The Republicans were so divided on the subject, that had not these Democrats voted for the bills not one could have passed.

Has GREELEY swallowed the Democratic party, or has the Democratic party swallowed GREELEY? We know that after the whale swallowed JONAH, he got sick of him and spewed him up. So it will be, we fear, with the Democratic party and GREELEY.

The July report of the Department of Agriculture figures up a good showing for the growing cotton crop. Only in four States is there less than an average, while in the States having the largest cotton area the standard is more than maintained.

The Ku Klux and Election bills should no longer be matters of difference between the two parties for HORACE GREELEY supported them both with all his virulent vocabulary.

Correspondence.

Our Washington Letter.
No. 1.

Washington, D. C., July 27, 1872.

Never has Washington been more lively than now in the improvement and ornamentation of its streets. Thousands of men are employed, and it would seem that the entire city is being regarded, paved and sewered.

Our new government has just entered upon its second year, and before its close Washington the Capital of the great United States, will have entirely emerged from its old-time lethargy, and will appear to the visitor the grand city he expects to behold. The calculation is to make Washington the most lovely, the most noble and grand place to look upon, as well as to live in, in the world.

GEN. HOWARD'S RETURN

from Arizona is fraught with every hope of a peaceable settlement with the Indians of the far West. It is anticipated that through his mild and naturally philanthropic nature, a treaty may be consummated with them that will be lasting, and the abuses and causes of the outbreaks of past years effectually remedied and removed. The President has great confidence in him, and will probably consider favorable any suggestion from him looking to their permanent future peace and happiness.

THE POLITICAL POT

has again commenced to boil with all the fury attending presidential campaigns. Before and since the Baltimore Convention, the more intelligent of the Democracy here, those who make principle the guide of their political action, keep aloof from the Greeley movement; but the politicians are out in full force, and are using every means in their power to bring the Democracy unitedly into line for Greeley. Thus far they have failed.

JOHN D. DEFREES, that political fraud, who, in 1862, came from Indiana politically and financially a bankrupt, is the chief among the Greeleyites in this section, and is endeavoring to tone down the hotheaded brethern of the copperhead fraternity, and get them to swallow the "Anything-to-beat-Grant" pill. His training may be successful, but it is slow work thus far. They can't go Greeley. Who blames them? For who would not prefer a successful, honorable foe, to snch a worn-out political turncoat and trickster.

It will be remembered that President Lincoln, looking with pity on the necessities of Defrees, made him superintendent of printing! How well he served the Government during a period of seven years, at a salary of $3,500, his estates here, in Virginia, and Indiana will attest. He is a Democrat by nature, and by practice; and at the time Congress displaced him, out of about 800 employees at the Government office, not more than 50 of that number were Republicans. He is a sorehead, and stands high in the Reform party.

Since the adjournment of the Baltimore Convention, a very strong reactionary movement has taken place in Pennsylvania and in Maryland. A gentleman just retuned from Pennsylvania says that the Democrats in some part of that State are bolting the nomination of Greeley en masse and joining Democratic Grant and Wilson clubs. Another gentleman from Maryland says they are doing the same thing in that State, and if the reaction continues as it has begun, there is more than an even chance that Maryland, "My Maryland," so long peering out of the darkness in which she has been groping, will give her electoral vote to Grant and Wilson.

The so-called Liberal Republicans are not now as jubilant as they were before the Baltimore convention. They see that Mr. Greeley has not been able to sell and deliver the Republican party as easily as they had calculated upon; and that, after all, it may prove true as to their candidate what King Henry V. said of the French herald, that—

"The man who once did sell the lion's skin,
While the beast lived, was killed in hunting him."

Water-spout in Colorado.—Terrific force of the Storm—Two Young Girls Killed.

Those who have ever witnessed a water-spout will bear testimony to its appalling nature. By some it is supposed to be formed by a whirlwind of extreme intensity, while others ascribe it to an electric origin. It occurs for the most part at sea, but sometimes also on shore, and particularly in rocky fastnesses, though generally in the neighborhood of water. One of these curious phenomena occurred on the Central stage-road, in Golden Gate Gulch, four miles above the town of Golden, on Sunday afternoon, about four o'clock. People residing in that vicinity report having seen, just above the higher mountains, numerous dense clouds, from which a conical pillar, resembling condensed vapor, was seen to descend, and almost simultaneously a deafening peal of thunder was heard. Mr. Jack Virden, wife and his sister, and Miss Blood, daughter of Lyman C. Blood, all of whom resided some five or six miles up the canon, had been to Golden, and were returning home in a double carriage, and had reached the point indicated above, when the peal of thunder came, and the water-spout dispersed. A moment before they had passed Fred Buckman, who had pulled his team on to an elevated spot of ground, and was sheltering himself, under a ledge of rocks, from the approaching storm. Presently a violent commotion, with confusion of sounds, like the tumult of the elements was heard high up in the mountain. Then came a tromendous torrent of water, bearing trees and boulders, and calculated to astonish and terrify by its magnitude, force and violence. The horses took fright, and, shying to one side, upset the carriage, and all occupants were pitched into the bottom of the gulch. In an instant as it were, and before they could recover their feet, the wave, with a perpendicular breast of ten or twelve feet, upon them, and licked them up like the sands of the gulch. Mrs. Virden clung to her husband, and he, by a miraculous chance, got hold of a limb, and held fast until the flood subsided. The poor girls—Misses Blood and Virded, aged respectively twelve and fourteen years—were less fortunate. They were carried down by the mighty current, to an appalling death. After the torrent had exhausted its fury, and a search for the bodies had been instituted, that of Miss Blood, mutilated beyond recognition, was found buried in the sand, all but one foot, about a half mile below where the accident occured. Her skull was completely denuded in places, and her body was frightfully gashed. It is a singular fact, that Lyman C. Blood, her father, who had been down to the valley, and was returning on horseback, when the accident took place, and had joined Buckman in the search for the bodies, was the first to discover the corpse of the girl, though it is still more singular that he did not recognize her, for he supposed her to be at home. The body of Miss Virden was recovered some three miles below the scene of the disaster, where it had lodged against a tree, and was stripped of its clothing.

It is a matter of history, and will be readily recalled by many, that a water-spout equally prodigious upon Guy Hill a few years ago, and flooded a stage-coach containing Gens. Grant, Sherman, and Sheridan; though they were far enough removed to escape disaster.

The Women for Grant—Earnest Appeal of the National Women's Suffrage Association for the Republican Party.

Rochester, N. Y., July 19.—The Democrat & Chronicle contains an appeal, of which the following is a synopsis:

"Women of The United States: The hour for political action has come. For the first time in the history of the country woman is recognized in the platform of a large and dominant party. Philadelphia has spoken, and woman is no longer ignored. This is the thin edge of the entering wedge which shall break woman's slavery into pieces, and make us at last a nation in which caste of sex shall fall down with caste of color, and humanity alone shall be the criterion of human rights. The women of the country have long looked to the Republican Party in hope, and not in vain, for to-day we are launched by it into the political arena, and it must hereafter fight our batles. This great party, having taken the imitative step, will never go back on its record. Many Republican leaders and Republican candidates extend their sympathy, while the other party gives no promise, either in its platform or the letters of its nominee. Horace Greeley has for years been our most bitter opponent. Both by tongue and by pen he has heaped abuse, ridicule and misrepresentation upon our leading women, while the whole power of the Tribune has been used to crush out our great reform, and now he continues his hostile course. He presses the iron heel of his despotism upon their liberties, and says he neither desires our help nor believes us capable of giving any. Women and women speakers are earnestly needed to co-operate, therefore, with the Republican Party."

The appeal is signed on behalf of National Woman,s Suffrage Association, Susan B. Anthony, President; Matilda Joslyn Gage, Chairman of the Executive Committee.

Mr. S. T. Streeter, of New York, withdraws from the Liberal Central Committee of New York. He finds the drift toward the Democracy a little too strong for a life-long Republican.

Jesse D. Bright says that he "suffered too much in attempting to maintain the integrity and dignity of the Democratic Party to unite in transferring it at this day to its most unrelenting, malignant and vituperative enemy."

State Republican Platform.

The Republicans of North Carolina in Convention assembled do

Resolve 1. The platform and principles of the Republican party of North Carolina, as heretofore enunciated in its Conventions, are hereby re-affirmed, and events have proved that their practical enforcement is essential to the welfare of the country, and to the maintainence of the rights, interests and liberties of the people.

2. That the Administration of President Grant meets with our hearty and unqualified approval, and our delegates to the National Republican Convention, to assemble at Philadelphia on the 5th day of June next, are instructed to vote for his re-nomination to the Presidency of the United States.

3. That the Republican party of North Carolina favors as rapid a dimunition and as early an extinction of all internal revenue taxation as the exigencies of the Government will permit, for the reason that the details of its collection are necessarily offensive, and in many respects, oppressive to the people.

4. That all internal revenue taxes on the distillation of fruits ought to be abolished.

5. That the Republican party of North Carolina recommend to the Congress of the United States the passage of a general amnesty bill, and the adoption of all necessary measures for the enforcement and protection of the civil and political rights of all classes of American citizens.

6. That in a free and representative government, we recognize the paramount obligation to provide efficiently for the general education of the people, and we favor such legislation as will accomplish that end; that we respectfully recommend and ask of the national government, such aid, by the provision of a public fund, or the donation of public lands to the purposes of establishing schools in the several States, as will secure to the masses of the people of all classes the benefits of a liberal education.

7. That we fully endorse the acts of Congress, passed to secure equal rights and protection to the citizens of the United States, in the several States; and we respectfully recommend a continuance of the present laws and the adoption of such further legislation as will more certainly secure to the citizens, full and practical enjoyment of all their rights, priviliges and liberties.

8. In the opinion of this Convention, the Democratic majority of the last Legislature, by consolidating into one act its numerous propositions to amend the State Constitution, endeavored to force upon the people a false issue, and to coerce them into the adoption of obnoxious amendments, and insomuch as all these propositions must be submitted to the next Legislature for ratification, before the same can be referred to the people, therefore,

Resolved, 1. That the amendments proposed as a whole do not meet the approval of the Republican party, because their adoption would subvert essential principles of the existing Constitution.

2. That Republicans can endorse a portion of said amendments and the next General Assembly may adopt such of them as shall seem best for the general welfare.

9. That we cordially endorse the administration of Gov. Caldwell, and recognize the fact that our people may rely upon his firmness in upholding their rights, and we heartily thank him for resisting the revolutionary purposes of those who designed to deprive the citizen of the protection afforded by the State Constitution.

10. That forgetful of personal preference we pledge ourselves to support earnestly and without reserve, the candidates presented by this Convention, believing that in unity alone is strength and that principles are more important than men, to the Republicans to North Carolina.

A letter from Morgantown, West Va., says: "There is not a Greeley Republican in our county. The Democrats are generally for Greeley, but some of them say they will vote for Grant, and a large number will abstain from voting for any one."

The colored Republicans of Maryland held a State Convention in Baltimore, Wednesday. They made an earnest appeal for enlarged educational facilitis for their race, and declared themselves in favor of the election of Grant and Wilson.

The Chicago Times says that the corrupt bargain and sale at Baltimore places no Democrat under the smallest obligation to support the grantee in that infamous transaction, which has inaugurated the most shameful political contest this continent has ever witnessed.

Slanderous reports concerning the character of a lady named Kenny, only 18 years of age, and but a few months married, caused the separation of the husband and wife at San Francisco on Thursday. The scandals were circulated by a Mr. Cummings, and all the persons interested reside near Petaluma, Sonoma County. Mrs. Kenny seeing Cummings riding past her house, seized a gun and shot him dead, and then went to Petaluma and surrendered herself to the authorities. She has the sympathy of the community, as she is believed to be innocent of the conduct imputed to her.

The California newspapers continue to prtest against a further emigration of "non-producers" to that State, and among these they class all professional men, as well as those only fitted for mercantile and "clerical" pursuits. The Pacific coast, they say, is overrun with adventurers, without trades, and without money and crowds more are pouring in. The days of swift fortunes have gone by, and California is as strictly an industrial community as Massachusetts. There is still "room for all," but only for those who bring capital in their arms or in their pockets.

The dog is a faithfull friend. He will guard the life of a loved master or mistress with his own life. A touching story, illustrative of this comes from Nashville, Tenn. A Mrs. Woodruff was in her yard, when she saw coming towards her a canine showing every symptom of the hydrophobia. She made a rush for the house, but the mad dog made rapidly upon her. In her dire extremity, the frightened lady loudly called the name of the watch dog, a great favorite with its mistress. The animal heard the call, and flew to the rescue. Just as the mad brute was in the act of siezing Mrs. Woodruff, the noble watch dog sprang upon the intruder. A terrible conflict followed. With the assistance of a colored man, the rabid canine was finally killed. A few days passed, and the watch dog, having been bit in several places, gave evidence of hydrophobia, and it was found necescary to shoot him. The poor animal saved the life of his mistress, but in doing so he laid down his own life. How many men would be willing to sacrifice so much on the alter of love and fidelity?

Two out of three of the original proprietors still direct its policy, and guid it on all public questions. They purpose that the TIMES shall continue to keep clear of all narrow and unworthy influences and eliques, and aim to represent the great body of the public, as distinguished from personal factions. It occupies a perfectly independent posions, and is free to speak the truth on all supjects and about all men. THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to the following new advertisements in this issue.
Dr. Butt's Removal &c.

Local and Personal.

☞ "You're another" is not the kind of argument we condescend to.

☞ The Land and Lumber Company propose rebuilding about the 1st, of October.

☞ A colored Camp Meeting has been in successful progress at Holly Grove during the past week.

☞ Mrs. GREAVES will accept the thanks of the Editor for a splendid Water Melon. It was the best we've had this season.

☞ The letter of our Jamesville correspondent reached us just after we went to press last week. Its publication, this week, would accomplish nothing.

☞ Our "Devil" says he knows a widow who has two boys, one of which knows nothing and the other don't. He'd like to know which knows the most.

☞ Hon. JOHN POOL arrived on last evening's boat. He brings the most cheering report from all parts of the State.

☞ WEISEL has commenced the work of rebuilding his burnt store on Water Street. He proposes erecting a building that will be an ornament to that part of the City.

☞ Mr. COBB returned yesterday and brings the most cheering news. He assures us that the Republican ticket will make gains in every county of the District. His majority will be entirely satisfactory.

☞ We regret to learn that the barn and stabling of Thos. J. MURDEN Esq. was destroyed by fire on Monday night. He had just threshed his wheat—about a thousand bushels—which was all consumed.

☞ There was considerable excitement in town one day last week caused by a dog biting several persons. It was feared he was mad, and he was at once followed and shot. He was examined and it is thought was entirely free from the fearful disease.

☞ JOHN L. CHAMBERLAIN, one of the Republican candidates for the Senate has been unable, because of serious illness, to take an active part in the canvas. He has so far recovered as to make a few speeches this week, in which he sent the curs, who have been maliciously slandering him, howling to their kennels.

☞ Our attention is called to the fact that the editor of Blasting Powder complains that we won't exchange with him. We have no use for his dirty sheet and would feel under obligations to him if he would cease forcing the nuisance upon us. The very fact that we do not send him our paper ought to have satisfied him that we didn't want his.

☞ We are fond of Music—we confess it—but we decidedly prefer that discoursed by our Cornet Band to the serenades nightly given by the "let-loose" dogs of the town. The prayer of a large number of the people of Elizabeth City now is: Let us have peace! let us have quiet! let us have a chance to sleep. If to secure these blessings it becomes necessary that there be a "slaughter of the innocents"—the noisy night prowling dogs we mean—let it be done, and done quickly.

☞ A correspondent from Nag's Head writes us that "the Season" has fairly opened and that it promises to be the best and most enjoyable he has experienced for years. Nothing can be more agreeable than to bathe in "The sea! the sea! the open sea!

The blue, the fresh, the ever free!"

following it in the evening with walk on the piazzas of the "Alexina," or a whirl through the mazes of the dance on the "light fantastic toe."

☞ We want to see a full Republican vote to-morrow. We want to see the entire ticket elected—State, Congressional, District and County. We leave the ticket to be voted in this county stand at our mast head in this issue. It is the regular Republican ticket. Vote it from top to bottom. Let there be no scratching—no trading off—no bolting. It is dangerous and it has the effect to weaken and injure the party organization. Republicans of Pasquotank! our last word is—do your whole duty and VOTE THE WHOLE TICKET.

☞ We have, time and again, advised those of our Northern friends desiring to "make a change for the better," and who have but moderate means, that it would be far more advantageous to them if, instead of going "out West" to settle, they would buy lands in the South where they would be enabled to enjoy so many advantages over those which the Wes offers. If a man has money to buy and stock a farm already prepared to his hand with buildings and other necessaries of life, and is willing with his family to work hard all his life time, he may possibly do better at the West than at the South, but we doubt it. The same amount of means at the low rate of which landed estates can now be bought, will purchace much more desirable properties at the South—lands more easily cultivated, with labor much cheaper, and markets and facilities far more attractive than those which can be found in what now may be called the West.

☞ To-day as we go to press a large Republican Mass Meeting is in progress h ere which is being addressed by Hon JOHN POOL, W. H. SMITH Esq., AUG. M. MOORE Esq and others.

☞ A customer called at one of our Drug Stores a few days ago and called for a bottle of "Jane's experiance". The polite clerk informed him that Jane had not bottled her experiance yet, but that he could furnish "Jaynes Expectorant." "It answered the purpose."

☞ To our esteemed correspondent "L. A." we would say that it is folly to waste ammunition in the direction suggested. The parties belong to the class of whom DEAN SWIFT said; "It is useless to attempt to argue a man out of anything he was never reasoned into."

☞ Writers do not always shape their letters in the way Lord PALMERSTON loved—"we know how it is ourself"—and type, like other matter, will get in the wrong place. With all our efforts to prevent it occasional typographical errors will escape our eye in reading proof.

☞ To-morrow is the election. It will be an important day for North Carolina. It will decide whether the State will be placed in harmony with the National Government and thus secure Peace, Progress and Prosperity, or whether the present unsatisfactory condition shall continue another term. Let every man do his duty and may God protect the Right.

☞ Now that the election is about over and the minds of the people not so much occupied with local and State politics there will be more time to devote to other important interests. One of these is the Albemarle Agricultural Society. The Executive Committee will immediately proceed to business. The first installment on the stock must be paid into the Treasurer in order that active steps may be taken toward purchasing and fitting up Fair Grounds.

☞ The weather is warm—hot. Were it not for the necessities of the grinding editorial wheel, keeping us daily in our office, we'd "off to the sea-side" and participate in the recreation so many of our friends are now enjoying. But the "Devil" keeps up a continual demand for "copy," and the readers of the NORTH CAROLINIAN can't get along without the regular visits of their favorite, so with the aid of ice water and water melons we'll "stick to our post."

☞ There was a large and enthusiastic Republican Meeting at South Mills on Monday. Eloquent speeches were made by Hon. C. C. POOL, AUG. M. MOORE Esq., and JOHN L. CHAMBERLAIN Esq., with telling effect. There was also a large meeting at Old Trappe on Tuesday addressed by W. H. SMITH Esq., Judge POOL, AUG. M. MOORE Esq., and J. L. CHAMBERLAIN. The speeches of these gentlemen made a profound impression and will tell to-morrow at the polls.

☞ Maj. YEATES ought to be ashamed of himself—for he is a very clever gentleman—for authorizing his editorial spokesman to make faces and call ugly names. While it may not be political sagacity it certainly is sound morality to "own the truth and shame the Devil." But after being rode around the ring on the "Judgeship" by Capt. GRANDY, no wonder he should feel irate and sore. Major! under the circumstances, we forgive you!

☞ The CARTER organ here is in agony. It entreats, it implores, it prays! Not only are all the supplicating phrases of the Dictionary brought in requisition but all the display type of the office is used in begging its readers to "Vote for Carter". And then in its g asping efforts it abuses Mr. COBB. It wont av ail To-morrow at sunset, its Chieftain will be obliged to walk the plank. The sober judgement of the people are seldom swayed by such frantic appeals.

☞ During the past two weeks placards were posted all over this end of the District announcing that the two Pasquotank "War horses" of the White Hat Party would address the people. The appointments were met, but to the mortification and disappointment of the Old Stagers but few came out to hear the words of wisdom falling from their lips. At South Mills, on Saturday, the audience was so small that the orators came away with their big speeches undelivered! The truth is, the people are sick and tired of Democracy and have lost all confidence in the old leaders.

☞ THE NORTH CAROLINIAN is the best and cheapest advertising medium in this section, because it has the largest and most desirable circulation. Advertising now pays. Remember advertising pays for itself. Advertising is only asking people to come and buy. Advertising is informing people what you have. Advertising is bringing goods to notice, otherwise unknown. Advertising is the business man's seed time, the business the harvest. Advertisments are read when people go to buy. Advertisments are an index to the business of a town. Advertising is the life and vitality of business. Nothing pays a business man better, than judicious advertising. Without advertising, some articles could never be introduced into the market. With liberal advertising the trade of a town can be greatly increased. To refuse to advertise is to refuse to ask customers to come and buy. Advertisments are the business man's traveling signs and invitation cards. The circulation of THE NORTH CAROLINIAN is not limited to one section. It brings town and country custom. Advertisments in THE NORTH CAROLINIAN, are mailed to our best families, including farmers, merchants, manufacturers, mechanics, workmen and others. Every cent judiciously invested in advertising, will pay double and frequently ten fold. Come try it. Your busiuess needs it. Fortunes are left slip from men, for lack of faith, and the enterprise of advertising liberally.

A PITIFUL CONDITION.—It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of no spacific disease; they suffer no positive pain; but they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensuous pleasure. In nine cases out of ten this state of lassitude and torpor arises from a morbid stomach. Indigestion destroys the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food every organ is starved, every function interrupted.

Now, what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of depression? The system needs rousing and strengthening; not merely for an hour or two to sink afterward into a more pitible condition than ever (as it assuredly would do if an ordinary alcoholic stimulant were resorted to,) but radically and permanently.

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer to this question, founded on the unvarying experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given Infuse new vigor into the digestive organs by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Do not waste time by administering temporary remedies, but wake the system up by recuperating the fountain-head of physica strength and energy, the great organ upon which al the other organs depend for their nurture and support.

By the time that a dozen doses of the great vegetable tonic and invigorant have been taken, the feeble frame of the dyspeptic will begin to feel its benign influence Appetite will be created, and with appetite the capacity to digest what it craves. Persevere until the cure is complete—until healthful blood, fit to be the materia of flesh and muscle, bone and nerve and brain, flows through the channels of circulation, instead of the watery pabulum with which they have heretofore been unperfectly nourished.

FOUTZ'S
CELEBRATED
Horse and Cattle Powders.

This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low-spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.
It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine-looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one-half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.

MRS. HARIET BEECHER STOW

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

T. K. Beecher's Hen-Parlor.

Not many months ago I spent more hundreds of dollars than I would like to confess to a self-denying home missionary, in constructing a hen-parlor with convenient approaches.

It proved to be an admirable room; so admirable that it caused some envy even in the domestic department of my house. It was proposed to move the laundry and kitchen to the hen-parlor, so light and chereful was it, and so easy to keep clean. It reached into the hill-side, and was one half under ground. The out-of-ground was of double glass and saw the sun all day long. The roosts and hen-boxes were made of pine worth $30 a thousand. There was a ventilator in my hen-parlor, which is more than any room in my house has; a spring of water unfailing, and sand, and oyster shells, buckwheat, corn, rye, cracked wheat, screenings, with tit-bits from the butchers. In short, all the appliances of the highest hen civilization were geathered in my hen-parlor.

Possibly there may be a higher degree of luxury vouchsafed to poultry in far-away regions among the bloated aristocrats of Great Britain; but, so far as my knowledge goes, hens have never had a better setting out than my hens had.

With what result?

This Spring if I have kept the count correctly, there have been eight broods of chickens hatched, varying in number from one to ten. But singularly enough the mothers hove proved most unnatural, and looked to me to provide nurses for their children. This became nessary not alone because of their unwillingness, but also their feebleness and worn-out condition generally.

They were genteel Dorkings. The progenitor of my flock took the prize at our last State Fair. I have never been able to learn just how much was paid for them, but they are of pure and perfect breed. In proof of all which, they cultivated every form of feeble health known among the most approved aristocrats. They languished, they pined, they were sleepless, and disturbed dreams—I judge by the cries heard—and, after a sufficient amount of languid promenading in the sunshine inside and outside of the of their parlor windows, hen after hen has died without seeming cause, but with perfect decorum and resignation. Suspecting that their delicacy of organization might prove unequal to the task of propagating their kind, I took the precaution of adding to their society robust Brahmas of approved reputation. But, as usual, the Brahmas caught laziness more effectually than the Dorkings strength.

As if to twit me with nonsense, one of my hens got through the park palings and ran off, stole a nest in a wretched, cold, damp place, and came off with a brood of 13 chickens and raised every one of them, contary to the decencies and proprieties of life; while other hens that were watched over and provided with boxes and clean straw and sulphur, and I had almost said with gruel and brown stout, were with difficulty held to their duty in the line of incubation, and when at last their broods struggled into being, they proved sickly and short-lived orphans. I pay ten cents a head for every chicken that my children brood, tend and bring up to tail feathers and angle-wormhunts in the garden.

I have done a deal of meditating in that hen-parlor of mine. I begin to distrust civilization and the doctors. Every hen in my parlor would be improved by backsliding toward her ancestral jungle. And there are few of my neighbors who I meet saluting them and being saluted with the hospital cry, "How do you do to-day?" "Are you well to-day?" "How is your family to-day?" who do not testify by this ghostly politeness how much we have lost by laying off our savagery and living a life of civilization.

I suspect that the way to health is the little rugged path that leads back to nature. I suspect that my hens will all do better when the time comes that I am not able to furnish them a parlor any longer, and not my hens only, but my children too.

How to Double the Grass Crop.

In an admirable agricultural address, George Washington stated that the tiller of the soil who had ability to make two blades of grass grow where hitherto the ground had yielded but one, and who would exercise that ability, should be considered a public benefactor, and to encourage farmers to cultivate their fields in such a manner as to realize such crops as Geo. Washington hinted at, agricultural lecturers ever since have repeated the saying. Yet it is doubtful whether they considered the teaching that they were inculcating really practicable, although it seemed to sound lofty to double the agricultural products of the country.

If a farmer has a bountiful supply of barnyard manure, it will be an easy task to make three spears of grass grow where the meadow has heretofore yielded only one on a given area. Let us take one of the meadows or pasturefields of some parts of New-Jersey, for example; where the soil has been so impoverished for a score or more of years that the yield would not exceed half a ton of poor hay per acre. If properly managed, every acre may be made to yield, the next season, three tons of prime hay. About the 1st of August, let the ground be plowed deep and neatly. If the surface soil rests on a compact hard pan, the plough should be adjusted to run on the top of the indurated strata, so as to turn up only a little of this subsoil, as it is always better to keep the unfertile soil beneath the seed-bed, unless the ground is being plowed in late Autumn. If the soil is a deep loam, or a peaty, or mucky soil, let the plough be put in as deeply as the team can draw it, and at the same time, be able to perform a reasonable task per day. Let every furrow be made of a uniform depth, and let none of the furrow-slices remain half turned over. If there is a crop of weeds, fix a chain on the plow so as to haul all the taps beneath the furrow-slices just as they are being turned over. The ground should be ploughed deep, so that a cultivator may be employed to mellow the surface, without turning over any of the sods. About a week after the ploughing is completed, let a wheel cultivator, or what is better, one of Nishwitz's harrows, be employed to go over the ground once, twice or three times, as may seem to be necessary to produce a mellow seed-bed three or four inches in depth. Then, at some period between the first of September and the first of October, spread a generous dressing of well-rooted barn-yard manure evenly over the ground, and go over the field once or twice with the cultivator or harrow to work the manure into the soil, after which sow about six or eight quarts of clean timothy seed (phleum platense) per acre, and one bushel (fourteen pounds) of Kentucky blue grass (Poa platense per acre. In lieu of the barn-yard manure sow ten hundred pounds of flour of bone per acre; and cover it and the seed with a brush harrow. Then keep all stock, even calves and sheep, off the field until after the first crop has been mowed the next season. Every acre tnus cultivated will yield three tons of choice hay.

A Scapegrace remarked that the principal branch of education in his school was a willow branch.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalisis and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where: and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotauk county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3.000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3.000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3.500, $7.00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

A Farm of 200 acres within one mile of Elizabeth City, with good two story dwelling, large barn and stables, and all necessary outhouses, orchard of fine fruit trees, and a large number of ornamental trees and shrubbery around dwelling. This farm is on one of the most public roads in the County—is in a high state of cultivation—has fine and durable fences, &c. Altogether, it is the richest land and most desirable location, anywhere in the neighborhood of the town. Price $8000—one-half cash, balance in easy payments.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.

The Judges and Registrars shall, on the Saturday preceeding the election, from nine o'clock A. M., attend at the polling place of their township or precinct, with the registration books, when and where the said books shall be open to the inspection of the electors of the township or precinct, and any elector shall be allowed to object to any name appearing on the said books. Where there is an objection the Registrar shall enter opposite the name so objected to the word "challenged," and shall appoint a time and place, on or before election day, when he, together with the judges of election, shall hear and decide upon such objection. Due notice of the time and place and hearing shall be given the person objected to.

No person shall register on the day of election, unless by satisfactory evidence he can show that he has become twenty-one years of age on that day, or for other reasons has become entitled to register.

The polls shall be open on the day of election from 9 o'clock in the morning until sun-set.
